1.0 – Introduction

This is an interim report on the implementation of the 2021 Approved Budget during the first quarter of the year covering the period of January to March. As usual, the report is very important as it is meant to reveal the trend of budget implementation and issues associated with that and what measures need to be put in place to achieve the objectives of the budget. The report looks at both the income and expenditure outturns relative to the approved estimates as to make an informed assessment of performance. Apart from comparison of actual income and expenditure against approved estimates, the report helps budget implementation remains on track in subsequent quarters and ensures funds are expended in accordance with the appropriations.

As an interim report, it presents the a snapshot view of the performances across all the components of the budget. It is intended that a more comprehensive report would follow up to provide more detailed and comprehensive performance assessment. Notwithstanding, the interim nature of the report, it would provide in its conclusion some useful recommendations that would support decisions and actions in subsequent periods of the year with the aim of achieving higher budgetary outputs, outcomes and impact.

2.0 - The 2021 Approved Budget Profile

The sum of ₦158.566 billion was appropriated as the total budget size for the 2021 Fiscal year as provided under Law No. 4 of 2020. Some of the key broad priorities of the 2021 include:

- a. Sustained economic diversification derive through agriculture. Focus includes plans to open up more agricultural lands, scale-up our agricultural empowerment support with focus on inputs supply, mechanization and value-chain development;
- b. Support to Micro, Small and Medium Scale Enterprises which includes multi-faceted support to existing SMES and business start-ups particularly those that suffered set-backs from the effects of the COVID-19;
- c. Continued intervention in key Human Development Sectors particularly, Education, Health, Water & Sanitation and other Social Development Services with emphasis on expanding access and quality of service delivery in these areas;

- d. Youths and Women Empowerment through targeted economic empowerment and other social intervention programs.

As conceived, the budget is to be funded from various revenues sources and financing items including recurrent revenues of about N115.08 billion and capital receipts amounting to slightly over N43.48 billion. On the expenditure side, while the sum of slightly over N76.35 billion was meant for recurrent expenditure comprising of both personnel and overhead cost, about N78.24 was for Capital Development. The details of these and the performance of each of the constituent parts are presented in tables 1 and 2 under the appraisal of budget implementation

3.0 - First Quarter Performance Appraisal of the 2021 Budget

The general assessments of revenue and expenditure outturns which depicts the 2021 budget implementation level for the first quarter of the year are presented in Tables 1 and 2 below. This assessment on the income side indicated almost 93% pro-rated performance (a negative variance of about 7% during the first three months of the year. At the aggregate level, the income performance could be adjudged as very satisfactory.

Table 1 - Consolidated Income Appraisal

iv.	External Loans	3,600,000,000	-	0%	-100%
v	Internal Loans	-	-	-	-100%

Looking further into the components, the performance on recurrent incomes reached up to about 84.1% with an outturn of over N24.2 billion. Almost all components performed credibly well with the exception of the aggregated receipts from MDAs. With a negative variance of about 67%. This is more attributed to paucity of data than poor performance. It is envisaged that, the final report would indicate a much more impressive performance.

On the Capital Receipts side, the report indicated a positive variance of over 15%. As usual, this is boosted by the accrual in respect of the Opening Balance for the year where almost 92% of the expectation was realized (pro-rated to over 370% performance) – that is an accrual of N9.03 billion against an expectation of about N9.75 billion. Indeed, this is what was responsible for the over 115% pro-rated performance on capital receipts. Performance of other components is as indicated in the table.

The highlights on the expenditure performances are presented in Table 2 below. As usual, the first quarter performance was below expectation as budget implementation was yet to go into full gear. As indicated in the table, overall performance was reported to be almost 60% pro-rated (a variance of about 40%). As could be seen, the aggregate expenditure amounted to almost N23.5 billion against the total approved estimates of N158.566billion.

Further analysis indicates that the Recurrent Expenditure components performed much better than Capital Expenditure with a pro-rated performances of 81.9% and 38% respectively. The performance of all the recurrent and capital expenditure components are as presented in the table. Apparently, it was the poor performance on capital expenditure (about 38%) that contributed to the overall below-expectation performance of about 60%. On the whole, it is expected that budget performance, especially on the capital expenditure side, would be more impressive during the second quarter when budget implementation would have gone into full gear.

While there is no cause for alarm at the moment, conscious and deliberate measures need to be put in place for higher outturns with regards to capital receipts and their associated expenditure components including both grants and loan funded projects. Implementation of the CARES Program needs to be commenced in earnest to attract the N5 billion CARES Grants from the World Bank.
